Pressure ulcers- cancer wounds - diabetic wounds and simple skin irritations are a concern when the healing is problematic. In fact if you have a wound that is not healing well, you know the irritation and pain. You worry about losing your leg or foot. or other affected site. You turn to health professionals for treatment and recovery.

Here is a secret . . . health care professional turn to a Kansas City Missouri based company founded by a local chemist and researcher who operates:

SOUTHWEST TECHNOLOGIES INC.

Treating the world well is the daily mantra of Dr. Edward Stout PhD . He developed Elasto-gel and other products to provide individuals with comfort and improved healing. Since 1983 Southwest Technologies has been connecting Elasto-gel to those who need wound healing.

Why infected wounds do not heal?

It is generally accepted that wounds will not heal, even in healthy persons or those with co-morbidities if the wound site is not:

1. Kept clean and in an environment where a good nutrient supply is present.
2. In an environment where the wound will be protected from further contamination and protect the new cell tissue and skin from dehydration.
3. The wound must be protected from pressure -shear or friction.

Some individuals are resistant and healing is very slow. Cells do not grow without proper nutrients. Think of wound healing this way:

People need to be able to eat a balanced diet or to have supplements in some manner to get all of the required proteins, carbohydrates, fats, trace minerals, etc. for good nutrition. The same is true of wound healing.

Wound care products that promote healing:

Elast-gel - is a unique patented bacteriostatic wound dressing.

Gold Dust - super absorbent wound filler.

Stimulen - collagen gel that stimulates new tissue growth.

These products were made possible because a Iowa farm boy liked to experiment in his lab. This passion is evident on a daily basis where you can still find him in his lab at his manufacturing company. Call or arrange a tour of his operation, he will welcome you and share his interest in treating you well. Medicare HCPC codes available for billing.
